

Meet our Trustees

Peter Golding – Chair of Trustees

Peter is a practicing solicitor and keen gig rower competing regularly in races around the South West.

Peter studied in Bristol and has worked here since he completed his training. Over the last 30 years he has developed strong links with the professional and voluntary sectors across the city having served as trustee of a number of local charities including Clifton Children's Society and The Centre for Adoption Support and Education and as volunteer legal advisor to local groups including KWADS.

Peter is an enthusiastic advocate for widening participation in sport, particularly amongst those groups who are excluded or feel themselves to be excluded from participation.

Tim Stevenson

Tim joined All-Aboard as the Chair of Trustees in 2014. Tim has played a considerable part in the development of Bristol. After becoming a chartered surveyor, he became a partner to a successful Bristol-based firm at the age of 23; which led to him becoming the UK Board Director and Regional Managing Director - ultimately responsible for bringing 20,000 jobs into Bristol by convincing large companies to relocate to Bristol.

When Tim retired he remained business-active as a director for five companies and gave generous amounts of time and expertise to multiple charities, including setting up his own charitable grant. He is also a keen sailor and is passionate about supporting disadvantaged children, making him a great asset to All-Aboard.

Simon Chapman

Simon is a retired accountant who was the West region senior audit partner at Pricewaterhouse Coopers. He is a lifelong sailor who has raced dinghies since his childhood and also has significant offshore experience including an Atlantic crossing.

Simon joined the Trustees of All-Aboard early in 2016 and is passionate about the benefits the organisation brings to the groups of people who use its services. In addition to his role at All-Aboard, Simon is a trustee of Bristol Music Trust and of Bristol Old Vic Theatre School and is president of Chew Valley Lake Sailing Club. Simon brings skills and knowledge in finance and accountancy following his 30 year career in accountancy.

Gill Hannan

the Scobell Trust.

Gill has been involved with Sailability since 2004 and worked as the Administrator of All-Aboard from its start in 2013. She is now stepping back from her admin role to take a Trustee role. Having seen how Sailability has changed lives and perceptions, her interests are making opportunities available to all to participate in watersports and overcoming any physical or emotional barriers experienced by people with disabilities. She is also a Trustee of

Adam Brooks

All-Aboard does, the wide range of activities they provide, and the myriad of benefits those activities bring to all.

Adam joined All-Aboard as Marketing and Communications Trustee in 2018, following 15 years working to promote charitable causes, events, festivals, bands and records for leading entertainment and leisure companies including Atlantic Records, Warp Records and Bristol-based Ents24. In his spare time he hosts podcasts, promotes an alternative club night and of course works to ensure growing numbers of people in Bristol and beyond are aware of the inspirational charitable work that

Mike Pennock

Mike joined AAW as a trustee in 2018. Mike's background is as a chartered surveyor and currently works for a national house builder seeking new land opportunities across the south west. Mike was brought up with sailing and used to be a keen dinghy racer as well as having helmed in numerous off shore yacht races, including the fastnet.

More recently and since having moved to Bristol, Mike has become a keen paddleboarder and enjoys anything which involves water and the outdoors. The ethos of the charity is very close to Mike and one he is a keen supporter of.
